Linguistic Situation and Language Attitudes in Hawick/Scottish Borders

By Christian Dietz-Verrier

GRIN Verlag GmbH Dez 2014, 2014. Taschenbuch. Book Condition: Neu. 211x151x10 mm. Neuware - Examination Thesis from the year 2003 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies - Linguistics, grade: 1.0, University of Heidelberg (English Department), course: English Linguistics, language: English, comment: The thesis is a '1. Staatsexamensarbeit für das höhere Lehramt' and is considered equivalent to a Master's thesis. , abstract: The present analysis will focus on two major aspects: the local vernacular as employed in Hawick and its usage in the school context. The emphasis lies on the present linguistic situation in terms of language usage and attitudes of both pupils and teachers. The second chapter will supply a brief social, linguistic and historical outline of Hawick and Southern Scots. Subsequently, in the third chapter the methodology and aspects of language attitudes and their measurement will be described. The fourth chapter, being the main part of the study, is subdivided into two sections. Firstly, the linguistic situation in Hawick in general will be illustrated, and extralinguistic variables are taken into account whenever they prove to be statistically significant. The final part of the analysis, chapter 4.2, will clarify language use and attitudes towards the vernacular in the...
